

Default Question Block

COMMUNITY-ENGAGED SCHOLARSHIP COLLABORATIVE

Thank you for your interest in applying for the 2022-23 Community-Engaged Scholarship Collaborative Fellowship Program offered by Duke Civic Engagement. Applications are open to Duke University staff and faculty. If applying as a team, community partners of Duke faculty and staff are also eligible and should each complete a separate application.

You can find complete information about the broader purpose and programming of the Community-Engaged Scholarship Collaborative and the Fellowship program here.

First name:

Last name:

Email address:

Preferred phone number:

Physical mailing address:

If Duke faculty or staff: affiliation(s) with Departments, Institutes or School:

If community partner: organizational affiliation(s):

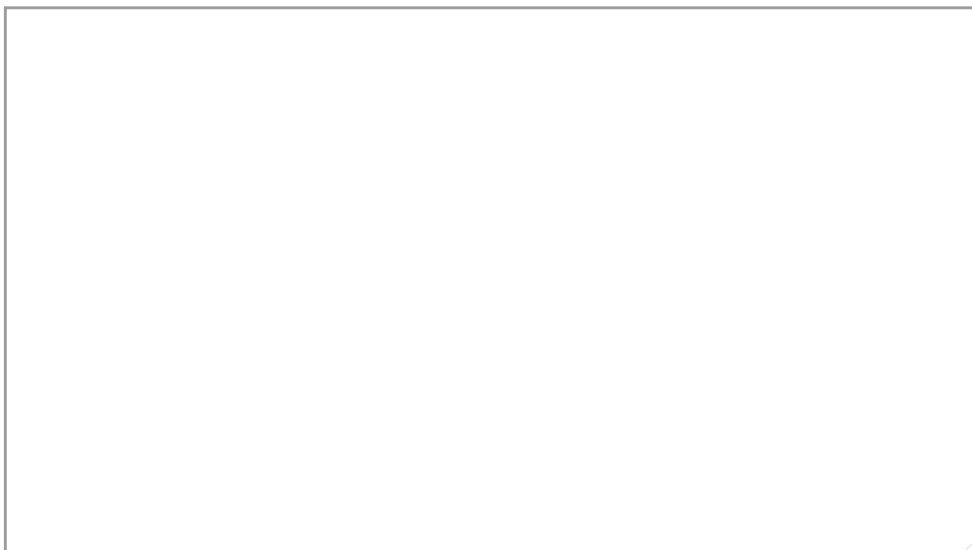

Your position title(s):

If you are applying to the Community-Engaged Scholarship Fellowship program with a partner, please indicate their name and affiliation:

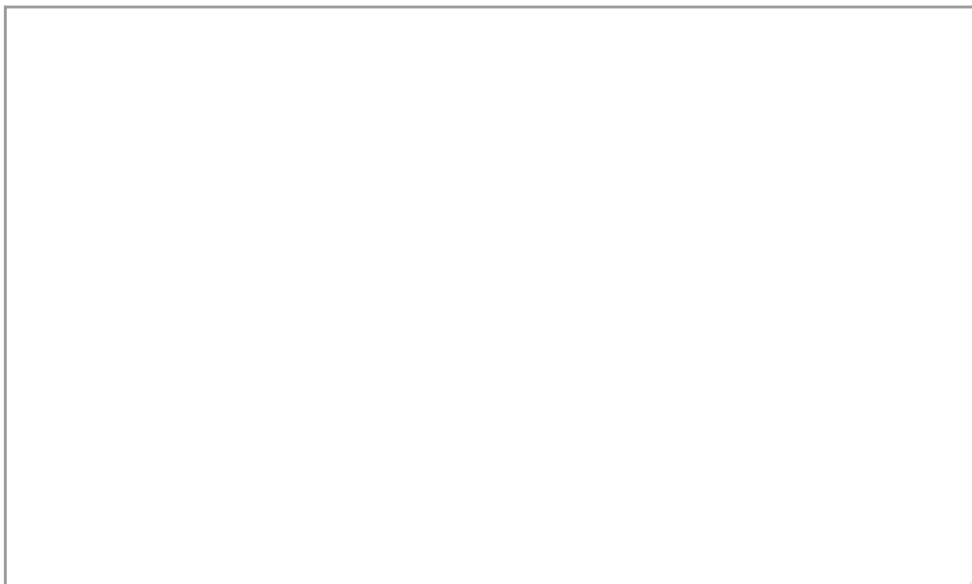

An empty rectangular box with a thin black border, likely a placeholder for a logo or header image.

Block 1

Please provide a short description of your previous and current experience with community-engaged scholarship (max 300 words).

A large empty rectangular box with a thin black border, intended for the user to provide a short description of their previous and current experience with community-engaged scholarship.

Please provide a short description of what you hope to gain from the Fellowship program and the ways in which you feel it will enhance your practice of community-engaged scholarship. If there is a specific project or collaboration that you would focus on during your tenure as a Fellow, please also provide a short description here as well (max 300 words).

Community-Engaged Scholarship Fellows are required to:

- Create a community-engaged scholarship plan in consultation with a mentor team at the beginning of the school year that includes project milestones and learning objectives and the steps needed in order to achieve them;
- Attend half-day cohort meetings one Friday of each month that will include workshop style sessions from campus partners and project and learning objective check-ins;
- Participate fully in other Learning Opportunities and events offered by the Community-Engaged Scholarship Collaborative;
- Present on their engaged scholarship during a symposium at the end of the spring semester;
- Contribute to in program evaluation processes and submit a final report.

If selected for the Fellowship program, would you be able and willing to complete these requirements?

- Yes
- No

Project Funding

Community-Engaged Scholarship Fellows, either as individuals or as Duke-community partner teams, are eligible for up to an additional $12,000 to develop, enhance, expand or sustain an existing engaged scholarship project. If applying with a partner or partners, only one member of the team should submit the additional information to apply for joint project funding.

Funds may be provided as the sole source of support or as complementary funds for the community-engagement component of the research or program. While priority will be given to projects related to Durham and Community Affairs' strategic focus areas, projects with other foci and geographies are also welcome.

Are you interested in applying for funding to support a community-engaged scholarship project?

- Yes
- No

Block 2

Name of the community-engaged scholarship project for which you are seeking funding:

Name(s) of the community partner organization(s) involved in this collaboration and the names, position title (if applicable) and email addresses of your the primary contacts:

Please provide a short (2-3 sentences) description of the ways in which these community partners have been involved in the design and development of the project for which you are requesting funding:

Please provide a short description of the community-engaged scholarship project for which you are requesting a small grant, including the community or communities of focus, needs addressed and intended outcomes, approaches/methods employed, and the current stage of the project and activities and achievements thus far (max 300 words).

Other organizations that are currently providing funding for this project:

Total amount (approximate) of other current sources of funding for this project (US$):

Total amount of project funding requested as part of your application for the Community-Engaged Scholarship Collaborative Fellowship Program (max US$12,000):

Please provide a short justification for how you plan to use the funds you are requesting. This should include:

1. A short (1-2 sentences) summary of the general categories of costs these funds will be used to cover and the total amount requested for each category;
2. The specific activities, items or personnel included in each category and an estimation of how much each will cost.

Block 3

Thank you for applying for the Community-Engaged Scholarship Collaborative Fellowship Program through the Duke Office of Civic Engagement. We will review applications and will email you with the results in early summer.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Leslie Parkins, Assistant Vice President and Director of Civic Engagement at leslie.parkins@duke.edu

Powered by Qualtrics